

C

C was formed by F#X/E.K.G. and Nika Son in late 2014 when they were given the chance to create an electro-acoustic space in a gallery room in Hamburg. Continuously working together since, they compose musical sculptures and collages that are not easily pigeon-holed.

They use a wide variety of analogue sound generators, from tape-machines, filters, self-made physical resonators, synthesizers, drum machines as well as the human voice. During the process of development, almost every element undergoes several stages of deformation, inventing denatured structures and spaces that can soothe and disturb at the same time.

Spacial textures, granular synthesis, abstract percussion, frozen sound, ripped voices.

Their first EP was released in autumn 2016 on the Hamburg-based label VIS.

F#X is a musician and DJ, who's been active in the electronic music scene in Hamburg for nearly a decade now.

His musical work sets its core in the correspondence of machines, shaped by tapes and tubes fed with algorithmic sequences.

Since 2011 he's collaborating with Helena Hauff as "Black Sites", with releases on labels like PAN and Panzerkreuz.

Under the name E.K.G. he plays out his great interest in electro-acoustic experiments and noise improvisation with the help of an electric guitar, oscillators, resonators, strobe lights and tube amplification. Releases on his own cassette label 999USD.
